DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-38 are pending in the application and are currently under prosecution.

Please Note: In an effort to enhance communication with our customers and reduce processing time, Group 1640 is running a Fax Response Pilot for Written Restriction Requirements. A dedicated Fax machine is in place to receive your responses. The Fax number is 703-308-4315. A Fax cover sheet is attached to this Office Action for your convenience. We encourage your participation in this Pilot program. If you have any questions or suggestions please contact Anthony Caputa, Ph.D., Supervisory Patent Examiner at 703-308-3995. Thank you in advance for allowing us to enhance our customer service. Please limit the use of this dedicated Fax number to responses to Written Restrictions.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-19, drawn to a method of examining a biological sample for evidence of disregulated cellular growth comprising examining a level of 20P1F12/TMPRSS2, classified in class 435, subclass 4, 6, 7.1.
- II. Claims 20-28, drawn to a method of detecting cancer in an individual comprising detecting a level of 20P1F12/TMPRSS2 gene expression and prostate specific antigen, classified in class 435, subclass 6, 7.23; class 436, subclass 64.

Art Unit: 1642

- III. Claims 29-32, drawn to a method of inhibiting the growth of a neoplastic cell with an effective amount of an anti-20P1F12/TMPRSS2 antibody, classified in class 424, subclass 138.1.
- IV. Claim 33, drawn to a vaccine composition comprising an immunogenic portion of a 20P1F12/TMPRSS2 polypeptide, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- V. Claim 34, drawn to a method of inhibiting the growth of a cell in a patient comprising administering an immunogenic portion of a 20P1F12/TMPRSS2 polypeptide, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
- VI. Claim 35, drawn to a monoclonal antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 388.1.
- VII. Claims 36-37, drawn to a method of inhibiting invasion by a tumor cell comprising introducing into the cell's environment a 20P1F12/TMPRSS2 polypeptide, classified in class 436, subclass 64.
- VIII. Claim 38, drawn to a method of inhibiting the expression of 20P1F12/TMPRSS2 protein comprising contact with a cell with an oligonucleotide homologous to a 20P1F12/TMPRSS2 mRNA, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1642

The Inventions of Groups IV and VI represent separate and distinct products which are made by materially different methods, and are used in materially different methods which have different modes of operation, different functions and different effects.

The inventions of Groups I-III, V, and VII-VIII are materially distinct methods which differ at least in objectives, method steps, reagents and/or dosages and/or schedules used, response variables, and criteria for success.

The invention of Group IV and the method of Group V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (I) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (ii) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product [see MPEP § 806.05(h)]. In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as affinity chromatography.

The invention of Group VI and the method of Group III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (I) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (ii) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product [see MPEP § 806.05(h)]. In the instant case the antibody product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as affinity chromatography.

Art Unit: 1642

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Furthermore, because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one group is not required for another group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Species Election

Claims 2, 14-15, and 25 (common to Groups I and II) are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising the following:

- a) mRNA expression
- b) protein expression

The steps and reagents of the above species are completely distinct and impart different biological functions and uses such that one species could not be interchanged with the other. As such, each species would require different searches and the consideration of different patentability issues.

Claims 4, 16, and 26 (common to Groups I and II) are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising the following:

- a) Southern analysis
- b) northern analysis
- c) polymerase chain reaction analysis

Art Unit: 1642

d) immunoassay

The steps and reagents of the above species are completely distinct and impart different biological functions and uses such that one species could not be interchanged with the other. As such, each species would require different searches and the consideration of different patentability issues.

Claims 5, 13, and 24 (common to Groups I and II) are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising the following:

- a) blood and serum
- b) stool
- c) urine
- b) semen
- c) biopsied tissue

The above species represent distinct biological specimens and further comprise distinct cell types with different morphologies and functions such that one species could not be interchanged with the other. As such, each species would require different searches and the consideration of different patentability issues.

Additionally, Claims 6-7, 11-12, and 21-22 (common to Groups I and II) are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising the following diseases:

- a) prostate cancer,

Art Unit: 1642

b) colon cancer

-which differ at least in etiology, pathology, and mechanisms. As such, each species would require different searches and the consideration of different patentability issues.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
